THE KEYHOLE

NINETEEN HUNDRED SEVENTY-TWO

Dedication

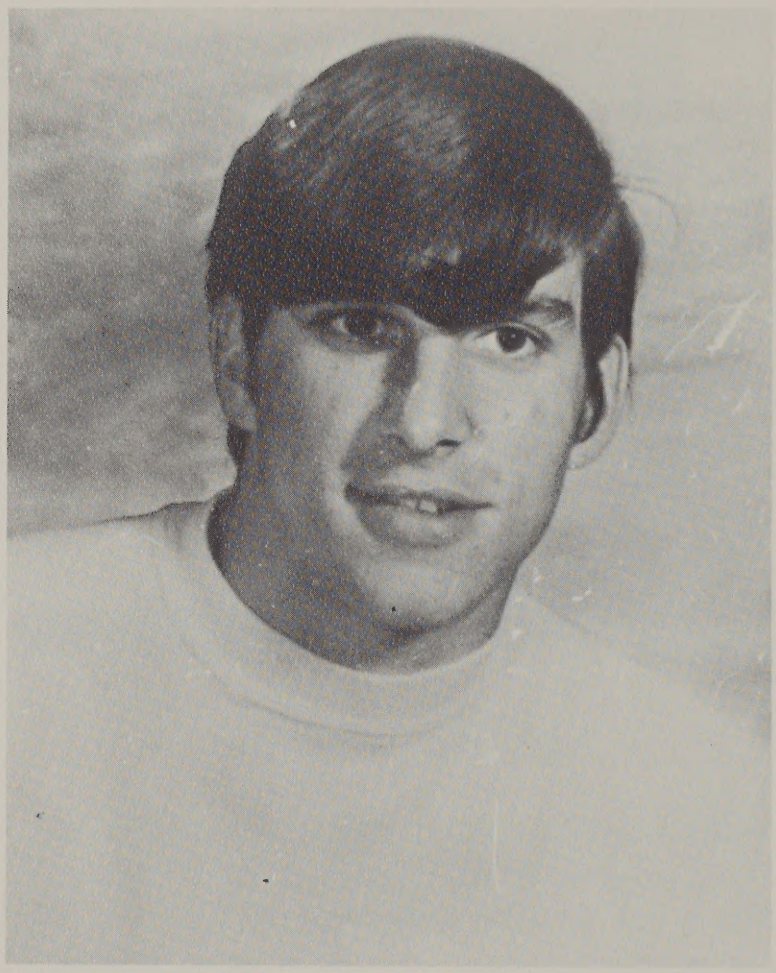
We dedicate this yearbook to Mrs. Kathryn Feehan, who through her many years of service to Littleton High School has distinguished herself as an understanding and devoted individual. She has displayed her concern in acting as advisor to the National Honor Society and by supporting various other school activities, such as the Latin Club. The Class of Seventy-Two would therefore like to express its deepest gratitude to Mrs. Feehan. We hope she will be with Littleton High School for many more years to come.

In Appreciation

Mrs. Doris Baker

Thank you for being the one person who cared enough to help our class. Your efforts were greatly appreciated.

IN MEMORIAM



STEVEN PARTRIDGE

And the tear that we shed, tho in secret it rolls,

Shall long keep his memory green in our souls.

LHS STUDENT COUNCIL

Although perhaps unknown to many Littleton High School students, Hong Thi Kim Oanh has been our foster child for more than a year. Funds supplied by the Student Council allow her to attend a private school near her home, where her favorite subjects are English and the sciences. She is a good student, and ranks second in her class of fifty-one pupils. We all wish her the best of luck in acheiving her ambition of becoming a teacher.

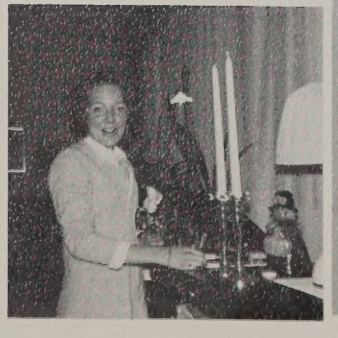
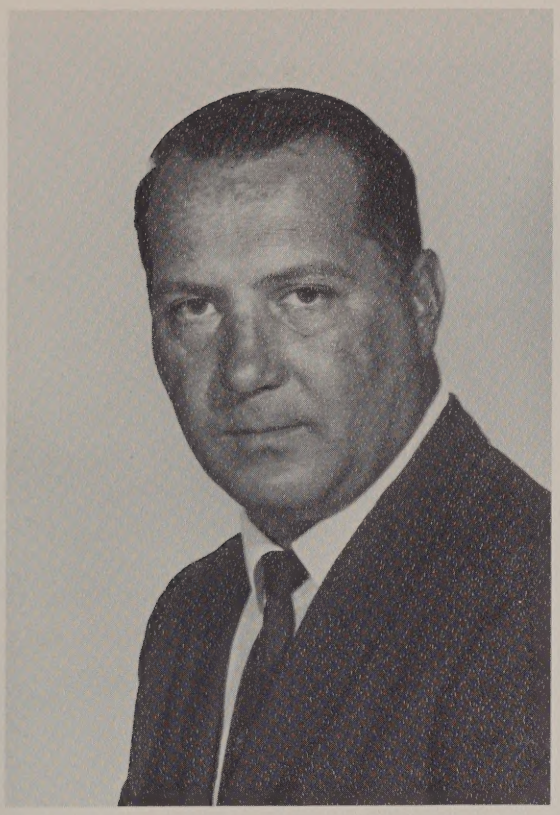
MADE IN SWEDEN (WITH LOVE)





To the members of the class of 1972,

You have now achieved one of your most cherished hopes; a goal to which you have looked forward for twelve school terms. Each year your educational program was planned so you would grow more and more independent in thought and decision. As a result of your graduation, you have reached a fork in the road, which way will it be?

Your choice of direction will test the effectiveness of your parents' guidance, your teachers' efforts, your community's interest; and above all, your ability to take advantage of these endeavors in your behalf. That you will choose wisely, we have no doubts. We will follow your career with a sense of pride in your every accomplishment, knowing that you will accept your full responsibility as a citizen, and that each of you will make a real contribution to society.

My best wishes to all of you for success and happiness in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

Claude R. Jax

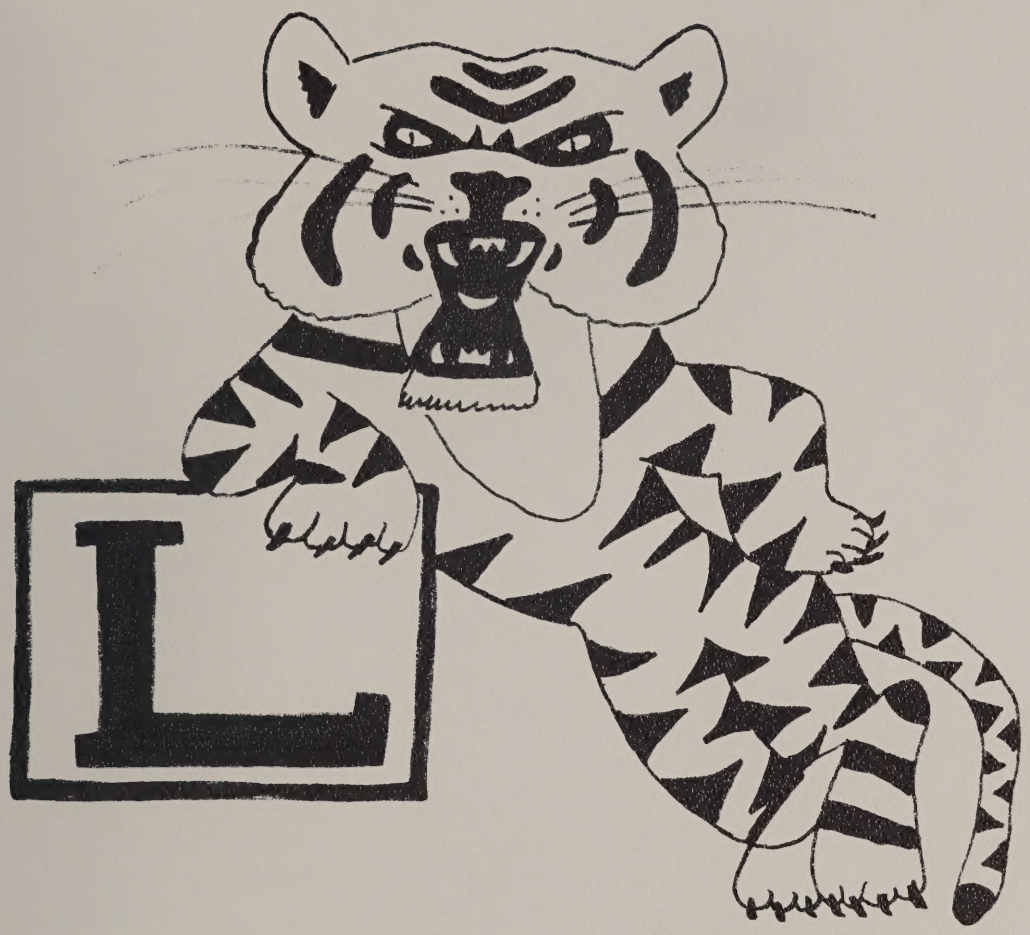
Library

The school year 1971-72 has seen changes in the Library. On our return to school in September we found MORE--More room; More light; More attractive with pretty blue carpeting. During October another addition--carrels were installed to furnish quiet study areas. With the advent of the Student Center the Library became a most desirable quiet place for concentration.

Mrs. Patricia Jones, our librarian, is very helpful in personal assistance and keeping the shelves stocked with both reference and fun-reading material. Mrs. Marion Parsons is Mrs. Jones' able assistant.



A SPORTSMAN

A sportsman is a man who doesn't boast or quit; nor make excuses when he fails.
He is a cheerful loser, and a quiet winner.
He plays fair and as well as he can.
He enjoys the pleasure of risk.
He gives his opponent the benefit of the doubt and he values the game itself more highly than the result.

A Littleton Tiger is a sportsman.

The football year 1971-72 was not an outstanding year record-wise for the Littleton Tigers won four and lost five games. Nevertheless there were some memorable aspects. For the first time a Littleton team attended a preseason football camp. THE high point was the 49-8 victory over Westford. Two Heartbreaking losses occured in the last minute of play. The season will also be remembered for practices and a twice-postponed Thanksgiving game played in a foot of snow. Several individuals were honored for their outstanding performance. Senior, John Hunt, and Juniors, Mark Gruskowski, Ron Dattoli and Richard Silveria were selected for the Wachusett All-Star Team. Despite the absence of a winning season the Tigers were again noted for their winning spirit.

1971 Field Hockey Season

Both the J. V. and Varsity field hockey teams finished the 1971 season with great records. The Varsity team captured the Wachusett League Title for the second time in three years. The Littleton Tigers fought with plenty of determination to capture the title but some disappointing losses and ties clouded up the Championship vision. The Tigers really proved themselves in the championship game against Murdock, defeating Murdock 2-1 and becoming the Champions of the Wachusett League. We all hope that the field hockey team will defend the Championship next year and for years to come.

. . .A special thanks goes to our coaches, Mr. Silva and Mrs. McManus, who coached, guided, and helped us find the way to VICTORY. . .

A Love Sonnet To My Coach

For thee, I shall run and smash my head
For thee, I will drive the seven man sled
It surely is plain for all to see
Just how much I love thee.

Our lovers' games we play after school
But thou are not a lover' fool
For as cold and hard as a German Prince
You ignore my love, and give me more sprints.

I love thee still, I truly do.
I even play JV for you.
Your radiance out shines the stars of heaven
But why do you make practice till seven?

Come away with me, to the gridiron of the sky
Where fair maidens will serve us blueberry pies.
Come away, come away to lovers' land
Of deep blue sea, and warm soft sand.

Littleton High School fielded its first Wrestling Team this year and the response from the student body was most encouraging. The initial year for the grapplers was spent in large part learning the basic fundamentals of wrestling. The season was highlighted by four outside scrimmages inwhich the Littleton grapplers showed their obvious enthusiasm for winning. It is hoped that this year's enthusiasm will carry over for next year's team. The young men involved in this year's team are:

R. Arnolde, W. Arnolde, A. Bradbury, D. Cullum, F. Curran, D. Dias, R. French, M. Glavey, M. Gruskowski, D. Harlow, D. Holden, D. Jackson, D. Kennedy, R. LeBlanc, P. Patnaude, J. Prendiville, J. Rice, J. Root, W. Rouille, D. Sherry, C. Smith, C. Whitcomb, D. Tessier.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Fall 1971

Each year 10% of the Junior Class is selected to be inducted into the National Honor Society. Members are chosen on the basis of "Scholarship, Character, Leadership and Service" as the Society's motto goes. The above students were elected in their Junior year. In February 1972, to this group was added an additional 5% of the Class of 1972 plus 10% of the Class of 1973.

The Honor Society, with Mrs. Kathryn Feehan as advisor, counts among its activities the induction of new members and an annual banquet held in the spring.

CLASS HISTORY — 1972

Now that our high school years are drawing to a close, we find it appropriate to record here some of the Class of 72's more exceptional exploits and experiences. Looking back, we find that these past four years have held for us many outstanding memories.

To begin at the beginning, we returned to LHS in the fall of 1968 after a short and uneventful half-year in the new Middle School as eighth graders. Although our class retained much of its anonymity, the school as a whole was far from inactive. To quote coach Messina (remember him?), it was the the "Year of the Tiger". Co-captains Brian Cone and Richard Croin led our football team on to victory after victory, giving Littleton an undefeated record and the league championship. The girls' Field Hockey team was nearly as successful, as they ended their season with 9 victories, 1 tie, and only 2 defeats. The team continued to play with skill and determination throughout the next three years, winning the 1969 and 1971 league championships.

On the international front, many of us had the pleasure of knowing Kaliopi Aprilli, ("Pitsa"), who was our foreign exchange student from Greece for 1968-1969. The year also had in store for our class many traditional freshmen experiences, among them Mr. Tierney's "primitive but effective" science class, impressive assemblies (some equipped with 6' 4" turkeys), and the typical sophomore-freshman antagonism.

Our sophomore year saw many changes at LHS. Academically speaking, some of the people we had come to know during our freshman year were no longer members of the teaching staff. Mr. and Mrs. Ferry (faculty sweethearts,) Mr. Wood, Mrs. Hinds & Miss O'Toole, who informed us of our part in the Post-War baby boom, were among those missing in action. Mr. Spaulding, Mr. Masuck (cheerleader for a day at one of our livelier pep rallies), Mr. Webster (joining Mrs. Webster in her second year here), Mrs. Jackson, Miss St. Germain, Mrs. Burnickas (then Miss Valliant), and Mr. Shumway were some of the new recruits. Along with some members of the faculty, we also lost part of the student body when a number of our classmates transferred to the Nashoba Valley Regional Technical High School, which opened in September of 1969. Of those that remained, some of us were lucky enough to see "Julius Caesar" performed at the Northshore Theater in Beverly (one of Mr. Chartrain's attempts to widen our cultural horizons.) It was also the year that the Drama Club, under the direction of Mrs. Webster, emerged as an active organization in the high school. Early in the year we were treated to a charming performance of "A Charlie Brown Christmas", and later, our class participated in the first interclass play competition. Our contribution was "Florence Unlimited", and though we lost to the juniors the award for the best play, Ann Slattery redeemed us by winning the "Best Actress" award. For the football team, it was the "Year of the Challenge". With Bob Higley and Mike McNiff as co-captains, our team made a commendable effort, but failed to retain its title. Early in 1970, the school administration took a liberal stand regarding the dress code, and at last abolished that age old institution (ta-ta-ta-da!).

The sophomore bake sale, our solitary fund-raising effort of the year, proved to be a financial flop. It rained that day, and we left Mr. Spaulding swimming in a sea of soggy brownies and fruitcake, So much for class participation.

Our Junior year brought overwhelming pecuniary advancements - that is to say, our money making ventures were a little more productive. Our two bake sales, supervised by Mrs. Baker, were enormously profitable, as was our candy sale. The prom committee made a tremendous effort, and, despite the abandonment of the Jeremiah project, "Downeast Waterfront" came off as a great success.

Dramatically, we were more experienced but, regrettably, no more successful where the play competition was concerned. Despite the competent direction of Mrs. Webster, the cast of the Junior play was again defeated, this time by the Sophomores (though our leading lady, Bonnie Baird, was named "Best Actress"). To the surprise of everyone, however, (especially the Seniors), we did emerge victorious in more than one of the spirit stick contest, breaking a long-standing tradition at LHS. The efforts of our industrious student council provided us with a number of entertaining assemblies (including the Dutch Duo and a lecture by the Oriental Mark Twain), a senior center (which was unfortunately never made available to our class), and a coke machine, which is still with us. Our Junior year also saw the establishment of a few new clubs at the high school, in particular, the Latin club, the French club, (remember coffee and doughnuts at the dump?) and the Biology club, as one of our older clubs, the National Honor Society, welcomed new members from our class at the traditional ceremony. To add a little variety to our somewhat mundane classroom existence, Mr. Annaldo gave us a guided tour of those two booming metropolises, Lexington, and Concord, and Mrs. Webster treated her classes to a day at the Fitchburg library. A blow was struck for women's liberation in the Spring of the year when the female element was finally introduced to the track team despite a few mild words of protest from Mr. Annaldo. We finished our year as juniors with a new innovation, student teaching day, and an old tradition, the Junior prom, and left LHS, ready to return in September as honest-to-goodness seniors. The rest of the history of the class of "72" we shall leave for the next few months and this books pages to tell.

BEFORE

Art Club

The Littleton High School Art Club is held two afternoons after school in the art room. It enables more of the students not taking an Art Class to be involved in art activities. It also allows scheduled art students to engage in an extra class in which they can create projects over and above those done in their class. The Art Club also creates posters for a variety of school activities as well as room displays. Work is done on an individual basis which is a creative learning situation for the students seeing different things being done at once. The advisor is Miss Richardson and the members are:

D. Baker, A. Tessier, L. Holden, C. Manni, P. Desjarlais, D. Hebenstreit, C. Durkee, L. Gill, J. Rausa, N. Bowers, L. Cowley, C. Moody, K. Gray, E. Bowker, P. Bowers, S. MacKay, L. Mathews, R. Morey, A. Harris, M. Carlson, P. Nelson, R. Lyuta, M. Whitcomb, M. Baird, J. Hamm, . H. Gaspari, M. Gaspari, D. Whitcomb, and M. Branagan.

Math Team

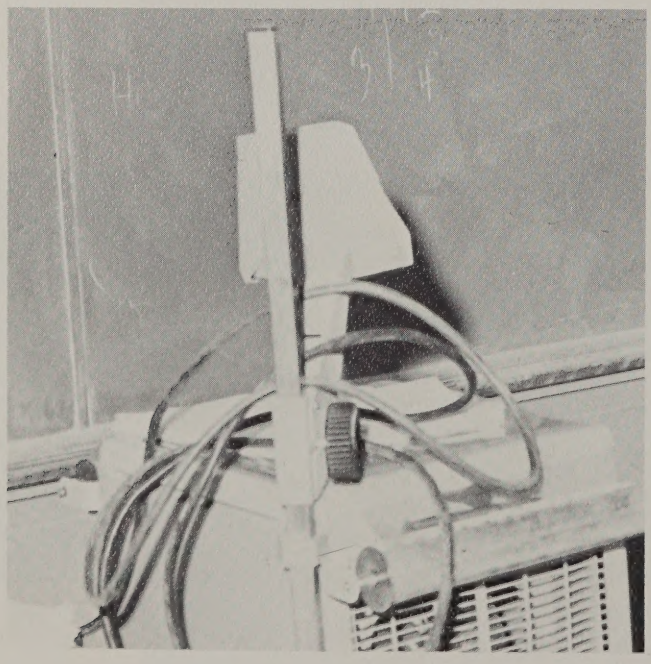
Like any other team, being in the Math team isn't all work and no play. Besides the expected activities such as participating in the various meets and cramming for each meet, the members of the team really have fun. It isn't every team who travels to the other schools in the teacher's car. Misinterpreting directions, taking "short" cuts, stalling in front of a particular individual's house, and having to sit on the console are but a few of the modern comforts available. Fights over which answer is right is another frequent activitiey. The contemplation of a possible kidnapping has crossed the minds of the team because a "certain person" on the Ayer team constantly gets perfect scores. The members of this year's kidnap squad are:
B. Surprenant, J. Covell, D. Hebenstreit, F. Lane, K. Smith, J. Hamm, G. Hugelman, R. Stoddard, A. Harris.

French Club

This year the French Club has incresed in its membership. Besides including the French IV and V students, membership was open to any French-speaking student in grades 10-12. Among its past activities, the French Club has dined in French restaurants, visited museums, and gone to view some French Plays. Miss St. Germain is the advisor and the list of the current members is as follows:
R. Covell, P. Dejarlais, D. Wilson, B. Quinn, J. Whitcomb, D. Young, L. Holden, L. Budlong, E. Bowker, H. Packard, C. Biagioni, D. Caldwell, K. Byrne, C. Durkee, D. Hebenstreit, R. Morey, K. Smith, M. Carlson, C. Cooper, L. Bourassa, L. Siekman, J. Covell, M. Branagan, L. Gil, and H. Stoddard.

Audio Visual

G. Bourassa, W. Rouille, G. Hugelman, S. Sawyer, S. Lewis, R. Lyuta, F. Lane, P. Nelson, H. Stoddard, M. Girad, M. Gaspari, M. Baird, K. Anderson, E. Williams, D. Whitcomb, J. Lane, H. Gaspari, and J. Hamm.



What about all those female giggles behind locked doors?

Chess sets in the A.V. room?

Assembly on Friday, let's make sure the equipment is working!

Who has the stereo now-the cafeteria, music room, or art room?

You know, sometimes the girls in A.V. know more than the boys!"

Friday 1:00-Anybody check the equipment for the assembly?

Where's our leader, Mr. Tierney? Try room 16.

Chorus

"When the morning stars sang together; all the sons of God shouted for joy."

What Is A Graduate?

These fascinating creatures called graduates come in varying sizes and styles and with varying modes of behavior but all graduates look very dignified in a cap and gown and very wise with a diploma in hand.

A graduate is caught up in a whirl of activitiy, a merry-go-round of excitement, a flurry of thrills. At long last he is bidding good-by to general math classes, senior play rehearsals; lording it over underclassmen; pep rallies; worrying about final tests, make up session after school, remembering absence notes, homework assignments and meeting report deadlines. He is turning a corner, leaving all this behind.

A graduate can be found doing everything; attending parties in dressy clothes or faded jeans; piling into cars for a trip to the beach or a local jaunt for pizza or ice cream; bewildering parents with vacillating moods of exuberant excitement and direct depression over the event of graduation; planning in anticipation for the coming senior class trip; threatening little brother's life if he dares to pick up the hat with the tassel which "comes off"; loading everyone into all shapes of cars, giggling hysterically, in the parade to graduation practice; seriously walking down the aisle, keeping in step with his partner as the magnitude of the occasion weighs in upon him; sitting alone in the night thinking of life at college and swallowing a big lump in his throat; pirouetting in front of the mirror in a strange cap and gown, trying to accustom himself to the "feel" of actually being a graduate!

A graduate has many emotions; the exhilarating thrill of "I made it!" the bittersweet sentiment of "Graduation is here!" the painful thought of "It's all over!" the eager anticipation of "Future, here I come!" the tremulous flutter of "It's all so new!" the wistful throb of "I wish it could be the same!" the profound electric stir of "Thank you, God, for the blessings of the present and your promise for the future!"

A graduate is a skylark on the wing, fervant, zealous, sincere, keenly aware of the joys of this big occasion in his life. He stands at the crossroads of his life, bidding childhood adieu and turning his eyes toward maturity. He does not lend his vision to the valley, but his eyes turn skyward, reaching toward the peaks of life. His fledgling wings are straining eagerly for the long flight awaiting him as he steps from the role of a graduate toward his destiny as an adult. When he takes his flight he will pursue new paths beneath the blue; he will bravely try the unknown. He cherishes lofty ideals. He holds the future of the world in the palm of his had.

A graduate is the fledgling who, in the hand of God, will become the eagle of tomorrow's world!
